

A SCHOOL TRIP TO REMEMBER!!!!!!!

Frankie and Lola were at Weston beach, for a school trip.

Their task was to make a large sandcastle. Happily, Lola and Frankie were enjoying the glossing sun reflecting off their bodies. Frankie scattered the sand to her left side. Shockingly, she came across a musty, grey, old, wrecked box that was covered in wet sand. She wiped all the wet sand off the box. Lola walked mysteriously towards Frankie and the box. Immediately they opened the box together...

Mysteriously, there was a shiny gold World War 1 medal.

Written on the box was “John Mexes reward for bravery in the world war”. Frankie dared Lola to put it on. Lola held her hand while she put it on.

Suddenly, they both entered a different world with loud gun shots aching their ears. Their hearts were beating faster than ever. Suddenly, it came to them that they were in the horrible trenches in the world war .Frankie slipped in the extremely slimy mud. That didn't help her extremely fast heartbeat. Lola helped her out with her very sweaty and muddy hand; Frankie didn't speak but she gave a little wink. There was a trumpet calling the troops in. Lola and Frankie came in and had their slop for dinner - they never ate it. They just stared at it till they took it off them. They went to bed that night with some horrible nightmares about how they are going to get back.

They start digging with pains in their head where they got no sleep last night. Suddenly someone got shot in lower stomach that they've never meet before but they still had to help. Frankie rushed towards him and Lola starting doing mouth to mouth to try and keep him alive. Moment by moment he was getting better, slowly but surely he started to open his eyes again.

The master was watching the whole thing. Slowly, he started walking towards them. Being extremely proud of them, he rewarded them with one medal. They had to share it but that didn't make it any less precious.

They put it on and got transported back to the school trip. They ran to the huddle where all their friends were and started acting like nothing had happened. Secretly they were very proud of it.
